Zoning Board eyes key issues

by LEE ANN MACKULIN

The question of bringing a new tavern on to Antioch's Main Street and changing the zoning of Johelia County Estates were the hot topics at the May 29 Zoning Board meeting in the Antioch Village Hall.

After two hours of deliberating, the board denied Joseph Patroski's proposal to change the original zoning of Johelia lots from single and multiple to duplex and multiple. The board will give their recommendation to the village board for consideration.

Patroski's intent was to build 'affordable' housing ($50-60 thousand) for young families wishing to move into the village and for elderly who require only a small home.

"We're not against the total project but have to act on what was presented to us," said board chairman Vern Budnick.

One issue lacking in the 'presentation' was how to prevent adverse effects on adjacent property.

The property discussed, owned by Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp., (FSLIC), was Country Ridge Manor, mostly single family dwellings.

"The change would have a negative effect...a depreciating effect on Country Ridge," said John Hoppe, representing FSLIC at the meeting.

"It's not homogeneous. Johelia and Country Ridge should be treated the same," said Hoppe.

Another reason for denial was the zoning being 'contrary to established land use patterns of the village'.

Increased traffic flow, if the zoning were changed, was a main concern of residents already living in the area.

"I don't think we're being unreasonable with the variances. I don't think we'll see anything happen in Antioch unless we see some of these changes," said the disappointed Patroski.

Changing the zoning of the old EJ's Camera Store to include 'special use' was next on the agenda of the three and a half hour meeting.

The proposal was made by Ken Mazuka to enable him to open a tavern on this Main Street location. Mazuka had run a tavern on Rt. 173 until 'contractual disagreements' with his landlord lead to his seeking a new location.

Unable to reach a decision, the board met the wishes of the Antioch Redevelopment Commission to wait 30 days for them to do a study on the impact of the tavern on the community.

"The redevelopment (of the east side of Main Street) may result in a $5 million expenditure. We want to insure that all of the property value is maximized. We need to evaluate the impact of the tavern on our project," said Michael Warren, head of the commission.

"The 'business mix' is critical to the development of the area. The village attorney has presented and recommended research of special use. It's simply a request that may very well work out to the petitioners benefit," said Warren.

For zoning to include 'special use' the board must consider the interest of public convenience and if it's detrimental to people or injurious to property value.

Many businessmen in the community turned out to express their concerns which, for the most part, included the problem of parking and concern with "the environmental effect."

What needs to be decided is "is it good for Main Street," said Burdick.

Nielsen's file lawsuit against Antioch Police

Former Lake Villa Mayor Ted Nielsen (1973-1977) is suing the Antioch Police Dept. and four police officers, Dennis Granfield, James Blackwood, Charles Watkins and Ron Roth, for punitive damages over $1 million in the name of his family.

The lawsuit, set to go to jury trial in Lake County Court in front of Judge Charles Scott, contends that Nielsen, 46, his brother Fred, 50, and daughter Christie Ann Dykstra, 22, were "willfully, wantonly and maliciously beaten" by the four officers.

The incident, which sent Nielsen to the hospital, occurred in November 1983 when Nielsen and his brother were at the police department to post bond for his daughter's boyfriend who had been arrested for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

As a result of the fray that ensued, Nielsen went to Victory Memorial Hospital for treatment and Roth was treated for a sprained hand at St. Therese Trauma Center. According to the Antioch Police report, Watkins had his uniform torn during the fracas.

When the nine charges against the Niensens, that included disorderly conduct and resisting arrest, were brought in front of Judge Ira Singer in April of 1984, the judge dropped a criminal trespass and a battery charge against Ted Nielsen because of insufficient evidence.

Assistant States Atty. Pat Quilty then dropped another battery charge and resisting arrest against Nielsen. Charges against the other two of resisting arrest were dropped by the judge and in turn the states attorney dropped the other charge of disorderly conduct against them.

Nielsen then pled straight guilty to one battery charge and received a $100 fine and three months supervision.

No date for the trial has been set. Ted Nielsen is the owner of a snowmobile, motorcycle dealership in Lake Villa.

Antioch Police Chief Charles Miller who was called to the police station because of the incident that night, would make no comment on the case because of the litigation.

Good news in The News

VFW celebrates

Five killed in head on crash

Head-on collision on Ill. Hwy. 59, near Antioch June 2, killed five people including four members of a Wauconda family.

James T. Ultsch, 33 of Spring Grove, was driving northbound on Hwy. 59 when he entered the southbound lane, running head on into the Bonni family. Daniel R., 33, his wife Thereasa, 29 and two sons Christopher J., 5 and Bradley R., 10, were dead at the scene of the 3 a.m. accident. Melissa Bonni, 7, is in critical condition at St. Therese Hospital, suffering from massive head injuries.

A coroner's report on Ultsch is being done to determine if alcohol or drugs were involved.

"The case is pending as of now," according to Ill. State Trooper Charles Allen.

Haley receives lighter sentence

Clement Haley has been sentenced to six months in a federal work release program, a fine of $10,000 and five years probation by a federal district court judge in Chicago for his involvement in an alleged international drug smuggling ring. Haley avoided a steeper sentence, possible two year prison term, by cooperating with authorities.

The sentence, handed down by U.S. District Court Judge Thomas McMillen on May 20 was part of a negotiated plea agreement with the government.

Haley agreed to cooperate with the government in its investigation of a drug trafficking ring that extended into some South American countries.

The only stipulation made by Haley was that he wouldn't testify against his brother William Haley. The brothers were among 11 persons indicted last year by a federal grand jury in Chicago on charges of conspiracy to smuggle and distribute several tons of marijuana, having a wholesale value of $5 million, into the country.

Clement Haley, 38, had plead guilty to the drug smuggling charge. He was sentenced to five years probation under custody of the U.S. Attorney General's Office.

McMillen, however, suspended execution of the sentence, placing Haley in the work release program. He begins his sentencing June 18.

William Haley, co-owner of Blarney Island, a Grass Lake Tavern, was sentenced along with James Amoroso of McHenry to ten-year prison terms for trafficking more than a ton of marijuana in Palm Beach County, Fla. William Haley received his trial date June 3 but was unavailable at press time.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

I hope everyone had a safe and fun Memorial Day Weekend. I know the wish is a little late, but Monday was a holiday...even for the paper. Wasn't it nice to have a three-day weekend. Summer is officially here!

Did everyone go to the RV Show? What a lovely selection of RV's, Boats and Auto's. Not only the display but the festivitie with it as well. Lucky Charms and Ernie Levas and the EPL Express were very good and everyone has a good time. Congratulations to the Chamber of Commerce on a great idea and everyone can look forward to it in the coming year.

Don't forget your pool passes, the pool will be open every day as of June 1. According to the Parks Office, there are a lot of Pavillion picnics already scheduled. Also, for all of you lovely girls out there, be sure to make an appointment to sign up for the Miss Antioch Pageant. July Fourth festivities are just around the corner.

Have you seen the flags flying about town in front of the stores? Another one of the chamber's ideas. It looks just great and certainly represents the Patriotic attitude of our community. They are going to be up for the entire summer. Let's all keep an eye out and save them.

Another beautiful flag is the one hanging at the Aqua Center. It has to be one of the largest most beautiful flags you have ever seen.

For anyone that missed the Easter Seal Benefit at the Country House, you missed a great time. Mike Warren certainly put together a wonderful time and for such a good cause. Again Ernie Levas and the EPL Express made the evening festivities a winner. The food was great and everyone had a good time. You should have seen all of the BUNNIES! We thought we were in the Playboy Club for a minute but then realized it was Easter (Seals) clever.

The cable taping of the RV Show was a nice view of the activities and having Ray Scarpelli Jr. and Larry Hanson representing our town was very impressive. They are two fine energetic good looking guys with a lot to offer the community.

Here's to June and all of the weddings coming up! Nancy Harland you have two weeks left. Congratulations to all of the up and coming brides.

Bradley Method

A new series of classes in The Bradley Method of Husband-Coached Childbirth will begin Thursday, June 6 in Round Lake.

Couples should begin this course during their 6th month of pregnancy to ensure completion before birthing. "Earlybird" attendance at the first five classes is encouraged for couples who do not want to wait till their 6th month to start classes.

Residents eye new 'treehouse'

by LEE ANN MACKULIN

Area parents and their children can look forward to 'My Tree House Too', being built on Main Street, Antioch. The new day care center, an extension of one in Lindenhurst, will be the sight of many smiling young faces by the end of August.

"We are unique in as much as we have a lot of physical attraction in the environment, such as climbers, table layouts and other equipment," said owner Jeane Kelley. Kelley and Barbara DeDera will jointly operate the new center.

Parents with children ages two-10 are invited to enroll them in the center planned to open in August. Toddlers will still be staying at the Lindenhurst facility.

Kelley believes the area is in need of a new daycare.

"Many who have called have children on waiting lists at other centers. The sign just went up and we've already enrolled 14 children," said Kelley.

Full staffing is needed, including a director, kindergarten teachers and a few lead teachers, according to Kelley.

"I would like, if I could, to get a local direc-

Troop 92 wins first aid awards

Antioch Boy Scouts of America Troop 92, tied for first place at the Northeast Illinois Council first aid competition conducted at the annual scout show on the Lake County Fairgrounds.

The six patrols that participated in this council-wide event had each won honors earlier this year in their district first aid meets. The seven districts that comprise Northeast Illinois Council cover the Lake County area. As Troop 92's Viking and Panther Patrols won first and second place, respectively, at the Lakes District meet, each patrol was eligible to compete.

The council competition involved the simulated diagnosis and treatment of real-life first aid problems such as fractured bones, burns, lacerations, poisoning, and heat stroke. The patrols were given three 50-point problems, each requiring the treatment of two "patients". They were judged on such criteria as problem analysis, problem reporting, treatment and teamwork.

Troop 92's Viking Patrol earned 144 of the 150 possible points and tied for first place with Deerfield Troop 55. The Patrol consisted of Patrol Leader Mark Aschbacher, Eric Anderson, Matt Aschbacher, Dale Gade, Brian Paschke and Dave Weston. The patrol won a plaque and the competition's traveling trophy for six months.

Although Troop 92's Panther Patrol did not place in the top three slots at the council competition, members of the patrol who participated included Patrol Leader Bob Paschke, Danny Ravens and Ken Wisniewski. Attending the event were Scoutmaster Bernie Dost and Senior Patrol Leader Brian Clark. Troop 92 scouts have received their first aid training from the troop's leaders and advanced scouts and from the Antioch Rescue Squad. The troop is sponsored by the Antioch Moose Lodge.

One week after the Northeast Council First Aid Meet, troop 92 scouts put their first aid skills into practice while they were camped at Governor Dodge State Park near Madison, Wis. Scout Matt Aschbacher fell while running through a rocky area and broke his leg at the growth line. Scouts Andersen and Kaufman, Paschke and Weston, immediately came to his rescue.

Trailer break-ins linked to area men

Nineteen break-ins at the Lake Marie Trailer Camp in Antioch March 20 have been tied to James Horton, Spring Grove and James Reitmayer, Antioch, according to Deputy Greg Guntharp.

Taken from the trailers were miscellaneous items such as clothing, jewelry and camping equipment.

"They did confess to all 19 break-ins," said Guntharp.

Residential Burglary, a felony, could bring a sentence in the State Penitentiary for the two if convicted.

Antioch sees new center

A new Urgent Care Center has opened in Antioch in the Chain of Lakes Area. The center is located in Antioch at 800 Main St. in The Heritage Building.

The Center will be a Full-Service Center, offering complete care for the community, including Urgent Care. The Practice will encompass; Internal Medicine, Family Practice, OB/GYN, Pediatrics and Industrial Care.

Dr. G. Raymond Gavary, the founder and Medical Director of the Group, feels there is a great need for the services of a Full-Service Medical Center in the area because his patients that live in the Antioch area and in Wisconsin have requested it over and over.

All of the physicians with the Antioch group are on staff at both St. Therese and Condell Hospitals. They also all practice at the other Lakeland Centers in Gurnee and Libertyville.

Urgent care is an important part of The Antioch Medical & Urgent Care Center. It means that both adults and children can receive immediate care for treatment of fractures, abrasions, and illnesses.

For more information about this Center or any of the Lakeland Centers, contact Linda at (312) 395-9180 or (312) 362-9050.

ACHS honors best athletes of 1984-85 at banquet

Some 230 senior athletes, cheerleaders, pom-pom, color guard, individual State qualifiers, most valuable athletes in each sport and their parents attended the 44th Annual Lion Athletic Banquet May 29.

Rick Bowen, Asst. Varsity Basketball Coach at the University of Wisconsin was the guest speaker. Bowen stressed the importance of developing marketable skills and getting an education first and foremost. Athletes are great but they are an extension of the educational process. One should set educational goals first and then athletic goals.

Lion Glen Hendrickson acted as toastmaster for the evening and welcomed the guests. Senior Brenda Webb represented the athletes and gave the response. Father Robert Tonelli from St. Peter's Church gave the invocation. Lion Bill Seemann introduced the board members present. Also introduced were John Ploss, University of Wisconsin basketball player and former Antioch star, along with Doug Ploss and Roger Andrews with their wives.

ACHS Principal Arthur Blecke thanked the Lions Club for their fine banquet and turned the program over to Athletic Director Ward Lear to present the special award athletes. Vice President John Wolf, with assistance of Lion Seemann made the awards as the Most Valuable and the senior nominees for Outstanding Senior Athletes and Cheerleader were noted by Lear.

The following were awarded medals as the Most Valuable player in various sports: Shannon Gooch, Volleyball; Cindy Darland, Field Hockey; Chris Eber-man, Cross Country; Michelle Morgan, Tennis; John Staerk, Cross Country; Scott Johnson, Golf; Shawn Wiltse, Soccer; Bob Johnson, Football; Jeri Gutowski, Bowling; Sara Hamlin, Gymnastics; Brenda Webb, Basketball; Calvin Knutsen, Wrestling; Brad Poulter, Basketball; Tracey Goodyear, Softball; Debbie Adams, Track, Jim Kauth, Baseball; Pat Bruks, Tennis and Dave Hart, Track.

The nominations for the James J. Walsh Outstanding Senior Awards were: Cheerleading, Tammi Pedersen and Kelly Weldin; Senior Girl Athlete, Debbie Adams, Tracy Goodyear, Michelle Mitchen, Cheryl Styskal and Brenda Webb; Senior Boy Athlete; Michael Dydo, Dave Hart, Calvin Knutsen and Brad Poulter.

The 1984-85 Outstanding Cheerleader was Tami Pedersen; Senior Girl

Athlete, Tracy Goodyear and Outstanding Boy Athlete Dave Hart.

Lauer's learn in space

Raymond and MaryAnn Lauer of Antioch, participated in the Adult United States Space Camp at the Alabama Space and Rocket Center in Huntsville Ala.

The adults participating enjoyed astronaut training and space shuttle simulations which have been popular with youngsters for three years now.

Director Edward O. Buckbee said the program is in response to adults wanting to share in the experience.

"We had many parents of campers who said they wished there had been such a camp when they were younger. We gave the idea a lot of consideration and now Space Camp is available to adults as well as girls and boys," said Buckbee.

Bank of Waukegan sees 12.5 dividend hike

Fred Abdula, chairman of Northern States Financial Corporation and the Bank of Waukegan, has announced that stockholders will receive a 12.5 percent increase in their semi-annual dividends. This increase in dividends from .80 cents per share in 1984 to .90 cents per share this year was approved by the bank's board of directors in May for stockholders of record as of May 15, 1985.

Bank of Waukegan president Charles Ofenloch stated that the increase in dividends is a result of increased earnings of $1,430,133 or $9.08 per share in the first seven months of the bank's fiscal year. The earnings per share represents a 20 percent increase compared to $7.58 per share in 1984.

Ofenloch also stated that the annualized return on equity for the same period was 26 percent and that return on assets was 1.72 percent.

Bank assets as of April 30, 1985 were $162,893,527 with outstanding loans of $89,065,398 and stockholders equity of $10,651,380. Book value as of April 30, was $67.62.

ACHS honor students

Antioch Community High School can once again boast an outstanding Valedictorian and Salutatorian.

Michelle Lynette Mitchen, of Lindenhurst is the 1985 ACHS Valedictorian.

Mitchen has accomplished more than just a 5. grade point average while at ACHS. She was on the Cross Country Varsity Team for four years, chosen captain her senior year; participated in marching band for four years, symphonic band a year and a half and concert band for two years, playing the flute. She was also active on the Accounting Team and the Jets Team her senior year.
